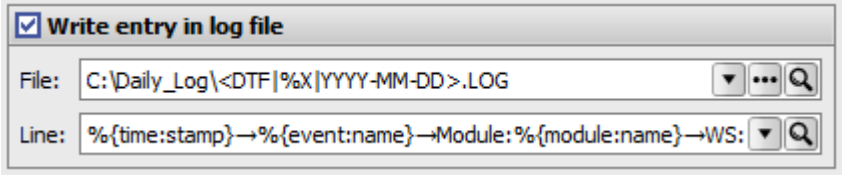
Write entry in log file



Here you can configure that new log entries are added to a log file.
The log entries are each one line long.
Tabs can be inserted in the log line with `Ctrl+T`. In the configuration these are displayed with the character "→".

Mergefields can be used in the log line as well as in the file name.

There are many tools for displaying and filtering the log file, such as: "SnakeTail", "Tail for Windows", etc.
